Transformation Before & After

STEPHANIE LARSEN INTERIOR DESIGN

"There is nothing more valuable than creating a space that truly feels like home," says Sedona, AZ designer, Stephanie Larsen. "While the ideal living space looks different for all of us, taking the steps to shape our homes around our unique needs, tastes, and lifestyles, enables us to create the environments that we need to grow, recharge, and reconnect with loved ones."

Tasked with transforming a dated interior, Stephanie took the opportunity to use Sedona's famed red rocks as a counterpoint to this interior. To do so Stephanie chose cool neutral tones for the floors, walls, and furniture.

"We took out the outdated fireplace, put in wood floors, and added some quality furniture," she says. "The decor completely warmed up the space."

Before (above) and after the renovation: Stephanie incorporated a Charleston Forge Cooper Drink Table with a Riverside Glass top into her update.
