Characterizing this style as "modern curve", Stephanie has shared with us some of her favorite pieces for 2020 that embody this approach of relaxed contour.

CHARLESTON RUG

Made in Pakistan from oxidized wool-silk, the Charleston Rug from Organic Looms features a warm and understated palette that brings forth memories of hazy summer days in Arizona. A sense of chic style and modern softness makes this a wonderful addition for a living room or bedroom space.

MARK HENDRICKSON VASES

Mark Hendrickson's ceramics carry deep influences of ancient relics and art while simultaneously capturing a distinctly original look. Created through experimental techniques of hand-stretching and a noteworthy reliance on clay's natural tendencies to rip and tear, Mark's work brings organic shapes together with modern concepts to create pieces that are unmistakably memorable.

FIZZ GRAND ROYAL COLLECTION

ERIK GONZALES ARTWORK

Erik Gonzales channels a richly textured approach to his art that carries with it an intriguing sense of weight and permanence in everything he produces. The combination of organic structures and orderly frameworks create a unique juxtaposition of natural curves and the controlled alignment of classic grid patterns, offering pieces that are both unconventional and eye-catching.

COLOGNE LAMP

The Cologne Lamp by Porta Romana, has some unique historical ties with a design that emerged from a promotional Cologne bottle produced in the 1960's. Made from blown glass and reproduced here in over-scaled proportions, the lamp plays with the low weight and color of the Cologne's original bottle to produce an extravagant and dynamic piece of home lighting.

Paying homage to the rhythmic forms of West African textiles, the Rhythm collection from Mark Alexander offers an altogether unique range of modern fabrics while extending a gentle nod to the collection's distinctly global inspirations. A series that's versatile, sophisticated and rich in color, these finely crafted linens pair well in capturing a warm, welcoming and worldly aesthetic.

THE DANE DINING CHAIR

The Ingot Collection from Seasonal Living showcases a luxurious selection of hand-crafted fire pits forged from welded copper and brass. These works of functional art feature hand-hammered designs developed over generations and inspired by the deep history of metal-working in Santa Clara de Cobre. Circled in copper and a tempered glass fire guard, these timelessly designed fire tables are the perfect gathering place to share a moment with family or friends.

CAMPO SIDE LEVER PULL-DOWN FAUCET

In the 14th century, miles of tunnels and aqueducts were built in the Italian region of Sienna, delivering water to the famous Font Gaia – or Fountain of the World. Inspired by this system of conduits, the ROHL Italian Bath Campo series follows in the footsteps of these historic water systems. The high arch and timeless industrial design of this faucet truly come together to make it a modern classic when it comes to kitchen hardware.
